Default

Failure to repay a Nyble Line of Credit may automatically make you ineligible for future Line of Credit borrowings. Nyble may report non-payment of outstanding balances to the credit bureau. Non-payment of any outstanding balances owed may negatively impact your credit score.

Authorization Agreement (“Authorization”) for Pre-Authorized Debit (the “PAD”)

The borrower hereby authorizes the Company, and, if applicable, the financial institution designated herein or such other financial institution that the Company may authorize in writing to collect your Line of Credit repayments by pre-authorized debit (“PAD”), by debit card or by credit card with the effective authorization date being the date which you opt into the Agreement. You are responsible for the accuracy of your PAD instructions. It is your responsibility to ensure that sufficient funds are available in your account at the time of payment.

If you cancel or revoke our ability to withdraw funds for these purposes while you are still a member, we have the right to deny you further Services.

The PAD instructions shall remain in effect until any contracted amounts are paid in full or until we receive written notification from you of a change to your banking information at least three (3) business days before the next debit is scheduled.

In the event any PAD is not honored, due to non-sufficient funds or any other reason other than revocation of this authorization, you authorize us to re-present the PAD at our discretion and for your financial institution to process such PAD without any pre-notice or any other consent. You hereby waive any requirement for pre-notification of changes in the amounts and/or payment dates of PADs drawn against your account at the financial institution you provide in accordance with this authorization.

You have certain recourse rights if any debit does not comply with these Terms of Service. For example, you have the right to receive reimbursement for any PAD that is not authorized or is not consistent with this authorization. To obtain more information about your recourse rights, you can visit www.payments.ca.

Responsibility for Third Party Bank Fees

You, and not Nyble, are responsible for reviewing the terms of your bank account to understand your bank's overdraft policy and the manner in which your bank posts banking transactions. You acknowledge and agree that you and not the Company, shall be solely responsible for any fees charged by your bank associated with overdrafts or non-sufficient funds events that occur when the Company debits your bank account for any payments due a payment requested through our Website. This means that you and not the Company are responsible for any overdraft fees, non-sufficient funds (including finance charges, late fees, or similar charges) that result from your failure to maintain available credit in your bank account that is sufficient to fund all payments that you authorize. The Company shall not, under any circumstances, be liable or responsible for any overdrafts, insufficient funds fees, or other bank fees incurred by you while using the Services.

Waiver

If Nyble fails to insist that you perform any of your obligations under these Terms, or if Nyble does not enforce its rights against you, or if Nyble delays in doing so, that will not mean that Nyble has waived its rights against you and will not mean that you do not have to comply with those obligations. If Nyble does waive a default by you, it will only do so in writing, and that will not mean that Nyble will automatically waive any later default by you.

Amendments, Modifications, etc.

This Agreement may not be amended or modified, or any provision hereof waived, except by an agreement in writing executed by both you and Nyble.

The Borrower consents to Nyble transferring, selling, or assigning this Agreement and the Company's interest in the loan.
